But Carpenter's influence, it is said, was exerted in opposition to that of the relatives. The situation becoming desperate, two physicians were called in. Edna was adjudged insane and was committed to state hospital No. 2 as a private patient. Carpenter then engaged the services of an attorney, C. L. Schibsiby,

Two years later he matricu- | lated in Illinois college, in the same city, from which institution he was graduated with honors at the age of twenty-one. During his college course Itis oratorical abilities made him prominent in middle western collegiate life. He won the honor of representing his school in the state contest of college orators. He won that contest and represented Illinois in 1881 at the interstate oratorical contest, held at Galesburg, Ill., where he achieved second honors, He was class orator at graduation. Jacksonville has a female seminary. In that school Miss Mary E. Baird was a student while young Bryan was in Hilfnois college. She was from Perry, Ill., and was of excellent family and an ambitious student. A bright young man and a bright young woman attending college in the same town sometimes emphasize the aphorism that like attracts like. Perhaps that explains why Bryan, after attending the Union Law college in Chicago and reading Judge Lyman Trumbull, the celebrated of Democracy an altitudinous stepping associate of Abraham Lincoln, repractice of his profession. Bryan and in the house on the 16th of August a Miss Baird were married shortly after speech against the repeal of the purhis return. Mrs. Bryan studied law in order to assist her husband in his professional work. After the Bryans removed to Lincoln, Neh., in 1887 Mrs. Bryan was admitted to the bar. Mr. Bryan became junior partner in the law firm of Talbot & Bryan, He believed there was more opportunity for a rising young lawyer in a new statea belief assuredly well grounded in his

Bryan plunged into politics in the spring of 1888, and that became his life vocation instead of the law. He was elected a delegate to the Democratic state convention at Omaha, where he made a speech strongly advocating free trade; also he made a reputation as a speaker. He was only twentyeight years old, yet the very next year papers or all political persuasions called it a masterpiece. The chairman of the ways and means committee was William M. Springer of Illinois. Springer was so delighted with Bryan's free wool talk that he procured the appointment of the young Nebraskan on his committee. Old graybeards have sat in the house for a generation without achieving that coveted honor. Here was a youngster member so honored in his first term. And when Bryan was returned to congress for a second term he was continued on that most important committee.

In the interim the Nebraska districts had been reapportioned so that Omaha was eliminated from the First district. The district in its new shape was conceded to be Republican by about 3,500. Judge Allen W. Field of Lincoln, one of the ablest and most popular Republicans in the state, was nominated to run against Bryan. He resigned from the bench, so sanguine of success was he, but Bryan beat him by 140 votes. When President Cleveland called an extra session of congress in the summer of 1893 to push through the repeal of the Sherman silver bullion purchasing act of 1890, the Democratic president of the oid school unwittingly gave to the man of destiny in the new school Nebraska, aged thirty-three, delivered chasing clause of the Sherman as The whole house and most of the seate heard it. When Bryan ceased speaking he was picked up by enemies and friends alike and borne around the hall on the shoulders of enthusiasts who liked a ripping fine oration when they heard it regardless as to whether it suited their politics. Nobody disputed that it was the greatest speech of the extra session. Bryan declined a renomination for congress in 1894 and became editor of the Omaha World-Herald. He wanted to go to the United States senate. The World-Herald business office made a contract to run daily on the editorial page two columns of "stuff," paid for by Republicans, which was inimical to Bryan's prospects. Bryan resigned the editorship after a fierce legal fight against the advertising contract. He was nominated for the senate by the unanimous vote of the state convention, despite the fact that many of them disagreed with him on the silver coinage issue. With John M. Thurston, the leading Republican candidate for the senate. Bryan engaged in two joint debates, having challenged Thurston. The forensic duels took place in Lincoln and Onaha. The tariff was the sole topic of discussion. Bryan defended the Wilson tariff, which as a member of the ways and means committee he had helped to create. At Lincoln the enthusiasm was such that Bryan was carried from the platform outside and down into the street, where howling mobs of "overflow" admirers awaited him. Thurston was elected by the legislature. Mr. Bryan remained a private citizen. He had challenged William McKinley also to a joint debate on the tariff, but the Ohio tariff builder declined. Mr. McKinley was destined to meet the Nebraskan in a broader contest a little later.

In the meantime Mr. Bryan was happy at home with his little family, the helpful wife and three children. The children now are grown up. Ruth is Mrs. William H. Leavitt and has made her father a grandfather. William junior is eighteen, and Miss Grace is a budding belle of seventeen years.

Young Mrs. Leavitt herself is som thing of a politician. She has been elected a delegate to the Democratic state convention in Colorado, her home being in Denver. Young William is a student in the Nebraska State university at Lincoln. Miss Grace, who in the event of her father's election to the presidency will become "the young lady of the White House," is at home with her estimable mother on the Bryan farm near Lincoln, known as "Fairview," where the head of the family some years ago built a handsome residence. Prior to that the family had occupied a modest cottage in Lincoln, where Mr. Bryan returned to his law practice after his unsuccessful campaign for the senatorship.

When in 1896 the Republican convention which nominated McKinley for president met in St. Louis, William J. Bryan held no office whatever. He ed to be a certainty until a thing hapstill had a connection with the Omaha pened hitherto unprecedented in Amerpaper, and he went to St. Louis as a press correspondent. At the Planters hotel the clerk looked over the plainly garbed young man who signed "W. J. Bryan" on the register and made him pay in advance. The clerk put Bryan in a room with seven Republicans. Under date of June 16 a correspondent of the New York Tribune sent to his paper from St. Louis this highly interesting paragraph:

Ex-Congressman William J. Bryan, the leader of the free silver wing of the Nebraska Democracy, was one of yesterday's arrivals. The appearance of Mr. Bryan in a hotel corridor in consultation with several Republicans from free silver states of the far west excited much comment. In response to a question concerning his mission Mr. Bryan remarked, "I have nothing to say now except that these gentlemen and I will be found next November voting the same ticket."

Senator Henry M. Teller of Colorado and others were the free silver Republican leaders indicated by the Tribune correspondent. It was an accurate the enthusiastic approbation of his

The Democracy opposed the forcible subjugation of the Filipinos and the control of the archipelago in the colonial style of the British empire. Mr. Bryan made another whirlwind campaign, even breaking his own record for traveling and speechmaking.

The discovery of vast deposits of gold in Alaska and elsewhere since the free silver campaigns has eliminated the money issue from politics. Mr. Bryan has accepted this fact and now stands upon other Democratic issues. Despite all opposition, he has dominated the national Democracy for twelve years. For several years past he has given expression to his views in the weekly journal, the Commoner, which he established at Lincoln. He has removed to a fine farm near Lincoln, built a commodious residence and become known throughout the world as the "great American commoner," titular successor to Henry Clay. He has traveled around the world written his impressions for a syndicate of American newspapers. He has been for years the most popular and highest paid lecturer on the American lyceum and Chautauqua circuits. It is said that his income from lecturing alone is as much as $50,000 a year, the president's salary.

The skin is an index to the quality of the blood. Eczema, Acne, Tetter, pimples, rashes, eruptions, etc., show that some unhealthy humor or acid impurity is diseasing and corrupting the circulation, so that instead of supplying nourishment and strength to the fine, delicate tissues of the skin, it is continually pouring out its acrid and unhealthy accumulations. External applications of salves, washes, lotions, etc., may relieve some of the itching and other discomfort caused by skin troubles, and for this reason should be used, but such treatment cannot reach the humor-laden blood, and therefore cannot cure. A thorough cleansing of the blood is the only cure for skin diseases. S. S., a purely vegetable preparation, is the best and quickest remedy. It goes down into the circulation and neutralizes and removes the acids, impurities and humors, thoroughly purifies the circulation and permanently cures skin diseases of every kind. When S. S. S. has driven the humors and impurities from the blood, and cooled and cleansed the acid-heated circulation, every symptom passes away, the skin is again nourished with rich, healthful blood and the trouble cured, as the cause has been removed. PRESIDENTIAL CAMPAIGN RAPIDLY DRAWING TO A CLOSE.

ALL KINDS OF CHARGES OF GRAIT

Organs of the Arias Party Are Ver Bitter Against the United States Government for Its Intervention.

Panama, July 9 .- As the presidenial campaign in Panama draws to a close, charges and counter charges of graft and corruption are being made by the leaders of the two factions and the excitement among the reople is reaching a high pitch. The election will be held Sunday.

success of General J. D. de Obaldia, whose party was successful in the re ernment party, which is supporting Dr. Ricardo Arias, President Amagor's minister of foreign affairs, for cresident.

Obaldia declares that wholesale graft has marked Amador's administration and that it is the purpose of Arias to perpetuate such a regime. Hundreds of American marines are patrolling the canal zone, to protect PRUNING RICH MEN'S CREDIT the property of the United States government, but no serious trouble is anticipated. It is alleged by Obaldia that the government party, frightened by the result of the municipal elections, is making preparations for wholesale ballo: box stuffing.

very bitter against the United States has caused no little flurry in the government for its intervention in homes of the rich here. Frederick l'anama's political contest, and the P. Garretson & Co., grocers, in their Star and Herald, in an editorial said ad, declare: to be inspired by President Amador. "We have made up our minds to in Cuba, may serve as a cause so that aire." all of us remain enmeshed in the common conflagration, for is it not true that the Americans are today in the world the heralds of purity of suffrage, and that solely through love of this purity do they come to break lances in a foreign land, whilst in their own country the recollection that ballot boxes full of ballots were thrown into the muddy waters of the Mississippi still remain afresh?

"We desire pure elections. We want a president to be he who has chtained the greatest number votes at the polis, but we do not ac cept the present intervention, because we consider it unconstitutional, incon venient and dangerous."

The Obaldia party, on the other and, welcomes the supervision of the election by the United States authorities. The Press, a supporter of General Obaldia, declares that the discontent of the Arias supporters is due to the fear that the intervention of the "big stick" will prevent the carrying out of their plans for stealing the election.

Fear is expressed in some quarters that present peaceful appearances are deceptive, and that the malcontents will yet succeed in arousing the peo ple to a widespread revolt that will give Uncle Sam's marines plenty to do in coping with the situation.

Another Indication That Merchants Are Buying if Prices Are Right.

As a further indication of the reproof of the value of President J. H. Patterson's advanced methods of advertising and selling and reduced prices, the National Cash Register Company, whose factory is at Dayton, Ohio, shipped eight thousand, two hundred and seventy (8,270) registers ir June. This is one thousand fiftythree (1.053) more registers than were shipped during the month of May, nineteen hundred and eight. The of the company was six thousand eight hundred and eight (6,808). This certainly proves that the right sort of administration even in hard times, will increase sales and contribute in a large degree to the general prosperty of the country.

THE CANNED SERMON.

Canned sermons have made their appearance in several of the Chicago churches, where they will "occupy the pulpit" while the real pastor is away enjoying his summer vacation. First it was canned music, now canned sermons and as a next step in the evolution we may look for canned prayers. Surely the world do move, says the St. Joseph News-Press.

Among the advocates of this innovation is the Rev. Jenkin Lloyd Jones, rector of All Souls' church in Chicago, who, in addition to supplying records of his sermons for use of his own congregation, agrees to furnish them to any church of any may desire which them. "Any pastor who wishes to take a vacation during the heated spell of July and August," he says, "may in the interval regale his congregatio nwith these sermons, and I'll guarantee that they'll be inter-

It will be observed that the Rev. Mr. Jones mentions only his own sermons, but the incident suggests a contingency that is startling, to sav the least. of anyother church, put up with merely excellent service when the very best is attainable? why not organize a canned sermon trust? The idea is capable of wonderful embellishment. Records (az $1.50 each) supplied by some half dozen of the world's greatest living divines, ought to take well, not only during the vacation period, but all he year round. Then, there are the sermons of Talmage, Spurgeon, Moody and Beecher which might be redeemed from the musty shelves of the library, and ground out to present day congregations by any church deacon capable of turning a crank. Be it understood that we do not advocate such a trust. On the contrary, we condemn it as a singularly obnoxious phase of modernism, and the object in calling attention to this possibility is to warn such rep resentatives of the cloth as favor the change. The old system of getting a vacation was through a system of pulpit exchanges, and on this it is difficult to improve. A bas the cannet

HUMAN SPECIES

Source of Everything That Is Beautiful

Each human being has something distinguishing, in form, proportions, countenance, gesture, voice-in feelings, thought, and temper, in mental as well as corporeal physiognomy. This variety is the source of everything beautiful and interesting in the external world—the foundation of the whole moral fabric of the universe. Certain external circumstances, as food, climate, mode of life, have the power of modifying the animal organization, so as to make it deviate from that of the parent. But this effect terminates in the individual. Thus, a fair Englishman, if exposed to the sun becomes dark and swarthy in Bengal; but his offspring, if from an English woman, are born just as fair as he himself was originally; and the children, after any number of generations that we have yet observed, are still born equally fair, provided there has been no intermixture of dark blood.

DRESSING bama delegation not to present hi name for the place Mr. Francis May Not Run.

Denver, July 9.—Governor Francis his afternoon notified the Missouri elegation that he will nt run for rice president, and the Massachusetts delegation that he will not ren for lass' name will not be presented for Howell in nomination for the place.

The Morning's Resume.

Denver, July 9 .- When the democratic national convention adjourned last night until today, after a bitter debate on the report of the committee on credentials, one snag had been removed from the channel through which the candidacy of Brynomination to the presidency. a vote which was announced as 615 to 387, the convention rejected the minority report from the committee and adopted that of the majority, the principal practical which was to unseat a group of contested delegates from Pennsylvania hostile to the candidacy of Mr. this, the report as adopted added four to the representation of Oklahoma, and thus four to the total strength of the convention. These four are, of course, Bryan men. To how great an extent this vote of 387 really represents the anti-Bryan strength was the interesting and highly important question debated on all hands this morning when the activities of the Representative in the legislature, subject third day of the convention began. to the decision of the republican primary lit requires a two-thirds vote to election, August 4, 1908. nominate, and 387 is considerably more than the necessary one third to defeat Mr. Bryan.

The supplanting of Guffey men by ing. democratic primary election, August 4, 1908. the Bryan men makes a net differto announce C. C. Lawson as candidate for Bryan men from Oklahoma would inject to the decision of the democratic pri- crease the gain to 24, but even that would leave the anti-Bryan strength more than the one-third necessary to

But comparativey few observers his morning professed to regard this nomination. Moreover, there were several absentees last night, the precise total of the convention before the additions from Oklahoma. and the corrected vote, to be an nounced this morning, may make intherefore enough uncertainty about it from any point of view to intensify the interest and the hour of the convening of today's session found the excitement high and increasing.

The permanent organization of the convention, which was to have been effected yesterday, but which was delayed by the question of credentials until teday, deferred the expected address of Rrepresentative Henry D. Clayton, of Alabama, as Ellis. permanent chairman until this morn-

As to the platform, most of the mportant planks were in final form as far as the sub-committee was concerned, and it seemed likely that the platform in full could be reported to the convention, perhaps late today. The most important developwas the reaching of an agreement week. in the sub-committee upon the plank relating to the use of court injunc tions in labor disputes. A compromise satisfactory to both the radical and conservative elements of the committee was reached.

With the division of strength in he convention between the Bryan and anti-Bryan people, the subject of so much speculation, the discussion of the vice presidential candidates ontinues in the background, and there has apparetnly been no change in that matter during the past twenty-four hours. It is evident that the 5-room house, barn, garden and lot main question of the nomination for the presidency must be out of the way before the second place can be intelligently dealt with.

There was another reign of festivi | races y in Denver last night, but the fact trasted with the night before it the crowd. was comparatively tame.

STARTING A YOUNG ORCHARD. Points to Be Observed in Securing a Good Growth.

There are many farmers who keep themselves busy saying that there is

After you have set the trees the work of a profitable orchard is not all done. That is only the beginning, and it is well to make a good beginning, but the young trees need some future care. They need cultivating especially while young. You had possibly better not set trees at all as to set them in sod and let the grass grow up around them, for then they will grow slow, be stunted, and likely die before coming into bearing. The grass takes up the moisture and the plant food, and robs the tree of vitality.

Young trees should be cultivated frequently for the first few years unless you know a better method. Some are using the mulch method and I think it is all right so far as the tree is concerned. I think it is fully as good as cultivating if it does not make It will be moved to Warsaw in a too much of a harbor for mice. I have few days. never tried this method

GREAT BRYAN OVATION

SENATOR GORE WAS SPEAKING WHEN THE DEMONSTRA-TION CAME.

IT LASTED 1 HOUR AND 21 MINUTES

The Blind Statesman Refers to the Nebraskan as "Greatest Living Democrat," and Then the Ovation Began.

Denver, July 9.—In course of a speech by Senator Gore, of Oklahoma who was called to the stand to fill a void caused by the lack of real convention business, the first extended Bryan demonstration was evoked yesterday afternoon. It began at 1:19 p. m. and lasted until 2:40, or one hour and twenty-one minutes, thirtyfour minutes longer than the fortyseven minute Roosevelt demonstration at the Chicago convention.

Senator Gore, who is blind, men tioned the Nebraskan, gates and spectators leaped to their feet with outbursts such as occur

By way of variety, the standard bearers led the way up to the galleries.

The picture of W. J. Bryan was suspended and waved in front of the painting of George Washington. The band liberally aided in keeping up the noise. It played "Tammany" for Tammany and "Dixie" for the southerners, and "The Gang's All Here," which, of course, served to key up everybody.

Cold-blooded convention goers stood on the side lines, so to speak, with stop watches. Would it beat the forty-seven minute Roosevelt demonstration at Chicago? Would the Pryanites outdrown Rooseveltites? It began to look as if they would.

The cheering began at 1:16. At 1:30 the procession of noisiest eathu-

Games of various kinds furnished the diversion. In the quotation hunt Mrs. Charles Easton won the prize, a volume of Longfellow's Golden Legions, and in the puzzle guessing contest, Mrs. Armstrong won the booby prize, a Missouri mule.

Kodacking concluded the evening's amusement, and everybody expressed themselves as having had a most enjoyable time.

TWO KILLED BY WHITE CAPS

Man and 8-Year-Old Child Were Shot Down in Montana.

Culbertson, Mont., July 9.—White Caps killed John A. Hays and his 8-year-old daughter at a claim, about ten miles north of Culbertson, yesterday. The claim where the shooting occurred was occupied by Walter Leng a backelor

Several months ago the Hays family during Long's absence moved, their shack from the claim they were occupying, on to the Walter Long claim. Since that time both claimants have occupied the same tract of land. Frequent quarrels in which violence has been threatened culminated yesterday when the White Caps went to the Hays' home and began shooting.

The little girl was shot while her mother was trying to get her to a place of safety in the house.

PREDICTS BRYAN'S ELECTION

Foretells Victory and Celebrates Wedding Anniversary.

Flora, Ill., July 9.—Mr. and Mrs. George A. Ricketts celebrated the fiftieth anniversary of their marriage at their home two miles south of this city Tuesday. They were married at Greencastle, Ind., July 4, 1858. They have nine children, eight sous and one daughter, and fifteen grandchildren.

Mr. and Mrs. Ricketts have made their home in Illinois for the last twenty-seven years, and have been residents of this county for sixteen years. Mr. Ricketts is a lifelona democrat and has veted for William J.Bryan twice and says that he hopes to again this year, and predicts Bryan's election.

THREE PLAYERS HURT

Ball Game Between Knobnoster and Sweet Springs.

Special to the Democrat-Sentiaci.

Knobnoster, Mo., July 9.—The game of ball between Sweet Springs and the Knobnoster club yesterday resulted in a victory for the Knobnoster club. Robert Clemens pitched for the Sweet Springs club and his brother, Rev. Lewis Clemens, caught.

In the fifth inning Rev. Clemens was struck on the thumb, while catching, breaking the bone, which went through the flesh.

The pitcher had a finger thrown out of place in the next inning.

out of place in the next inning.

One of the Knobnoster boys had one of his fingers hurt. The two Clemens live at Sweet Springs.

Those attending were well repaid for their trouble, as the evening's program consisted of music and peaking by the following gentlemen: Senior Past Grand Master Joshua Leach, Bros. Walter D. Moore and G. H. Headbrink, and last, but not least, Attorney C. C. Lawson, one of Sedalia's brightest legal minds , who, as an entertainer, is one of the best that it has ever been our pleasure to listen to. At the close of the evening's program an hour was spent in social conversation. At a late hour, all repaired to their comes with worls of praise for the boys of 78 and the girls of 225. Continuing, it says:

Tuesday morning, May 19, the delegates and visitors enjoyed a trolley ride over the city, through the pospitality of the Retail Men's association. The following places of interest were visited: The new Missouri Pacific shops: By the kindness of Assistant Master Mechanic, Mr. Yenawine, we were permitted to inspect each department of the shops, and your writer must say that for completeness, order and exactness, they are the most perfect that it has ever een our pleasure to visit. The next ficent of any in the state.

The convention adjourned at 4:15, o meet in Nevada the third Monday in May, 1909. Did the delegates and visitors immediately start for their homes? Well, no. the brothers of 78 and the sisters of 225 had not yet finished their part of he program. They yet had for us a banquet, and to say that they don't kno whow to feed people would be-well, I will only say that there were some who had to be taken home on account of eating too much.
